Young Man Struck by Train.

Sam, the nineteen year old son of D. H. Montgomery of Perry precinct, was struck by the Imperial branch train, Monday morning, and perhaps fatally injured. Both horses attached to the vehicle were killed and the vehicle badly smashed. No clear explanation is available. The track at that place is clear on both sides. The young man had been to McCook with his father and a brother, who took train No. 2, that morning, for Lincoln, and was on his way back to the farm—the family occupies the Droll farm near Perry.

The injured boy was taken on to Culbertson, and reports received on Monday indicated that his condition was serious, being unconscious from injuries received about the head.

A Few Junior Normal Notes.

Sup't Delzell, who inspected the Junior Normal while here to give the eighth grade graduates' address, gave a pleasing chapel talk. He gave great praise to the work of the model school and its teacher, Miss Rector.

The normal enrollment now reaches 66, with a few additions each day.

The regular teachers' examinations for June will be held Friday and Saturday in the high school building.

Many of the students will begin on examinations at this time.

Rev. Reed Taft Bayne gave a talk at chapel this morning upon the "Movement for Peace Among the Nations."

A special program will be given on Thursday morning of this week. Friends and visitors are welcome.

Mrs. Gary Dole, a former county superintendent, attended the eighth grade graduating exercises, last Friday afternoon, and informally addressed the graduates.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES.

An Overflowing House at the First Methodist Church on Sunday Evening.

An overflowing audience witnessed the Children's Day exercises of the Sunday school last Sunday evening, in the First Methodist church. The exercises were given in the main by the children of the primary and lower grades, and consisted of recitations and singing. Besides the Sunday school choir sang a number of selections. The entire program was interesting and appealing, and the tots gave a very pleasing account of themselves, highly entertaining all.

Besides the evergreen decorations of the morning, there was a profusion of cut flowers in the evening platform decorations, which gave a cheerful effect to the joyous occasion.

A special and liberal collection was taken in the morning session of the Sunday school and in the evening the total collection going to assist in the education of deserving boys and girls.

City Council Meeting.

The city council was in regular session last evening, with the following present: Mayor James McAdams, Councilmen Middleton, Brown Stansberry and Woods, City Clerk Frank Travers, City Attorney F. L. Wolf.

Several claims against city were read and allowed and warrants ordered drawn for the same.

A permit was granted C. F. Pade to build a brick addition to his barn on the residence lot within the fire limits.

Report of the library board was read and placed on file.

Mayor nominated four persons to fill vacancies on library board caused by retirement of three members and the resignation of J. E. Kelley, namely, Mrs. H. P. Sutton, Mrs. J. M. Trammell, Rev. Wm. Patton and J. S. LeHew. All were confirmed but Mr. LeHew. The mayor then nominated E. C. McKay, which nomination was confirmed.

On motion the mayor was authorized to employ The Audit and Bond Company of America now working on the county records to audit the city books at their regular price of $15.00 per day and expenses.

On motion it was determined that upon the execution, approval and filing of the bond therein described, the mayor and city clerk were authorized and instructed to enter into a contract with said McCook Cement Stone Co., as per draft of contract prepared by the city attorney.

THEIR FIRST MEMORIAL DAY.

McCook Division No. 623, B. of L. E. Observe Their First Annual Memorial Day.

The morning service at the First Methodist church, last Sunday, was specially notable in that upon that occasion was held the first annual memorial day exercises of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the great order having recently decided to hold such an annual service.

All the available members of McCook division No. 623 were present in a body.

Rev. L. E. Lewis delivered a special sermon to the brotherhood, and the choir offered appropriate music.

Miss Minnie Viersen gave a reading to the "Boys in Overclothes," which was especially significant and appropriate. It was appreciated by the enginemen and many hearts were in accord with the sentiment breathed by the author.

The platform, chancel rail and other parts of the church were decorated with evergreen and potted plants and cut flowers gave color to the effect. A "B. of L. E." banner occupied wall space just in rear of the pulpit.

It was a significant service, which filled the church with citizens who sympathize with the purpose of the service and the boys of the great brotherhood.

Pythian Memorial.

McCook lodge No. 42 observed Pythian Memorial day, last Sunday afternoon, in usual form. Following a brief service at their castle hall, the members marched in organization to the First Congregational church where Rev. R. T. Bayne delivered the memorial address. There was appropriate music by the church choir.

Following the church service came the decoration of the graves of departed knights, with ritualistic ceremony at the cemeteries of the city.

The Pythian Sisters also participated in the church services in a body and repaired to the cemeteries for the closing services of the day.

Ball Player Dies After Game.

Ed Poort died very suddenly Sunday night at nine o'clock. He played in the ball game between Norton and Arapahoe that afternoon, doing the catching for the former team. After the game he drank ice water and ate ice cream, which in his overheated condition, affected his heart. Mr. Poort worked in a grocery store and was not used to being out in the sun, and Sunday was an extremely hot day. His death was a hard blow to his team mates who have disbanded and will not play again this season. Deceased leaves a young wife.—Arapahoe Mirror.

Second Operation Necessary.

A telegram from Kansas City, Mo., last Thursday afternoon, announced the serious fact that a second operation was imperative in the case of Tom Tirrill, son of J. E. Tirrill of our city, who was earlier operated upon for appendicitis. J. E. Tirrill took No. 14, same evening for Kansas City.
